A WORD ABOUT SOWING SEEDS

Many gardening failures are traceable directly to faulty covering of seeds. A good rule to keep in mind is to cover the seeds to the extent of twice their thickness. On light, sandy soil deeper covering may be practiced than on heavy, clay soils. And last, but not least, without timely and diligent cultivation, a garden will be either a partial or total failure.

Flower Seeds

ANNUAL PRICE LIST 1935

ANNUALS are those flowers that bloom and ripen their seed the first year and then die. Among these are the asters, balsams, mignonette, sweet peas, nasturtiums, morning glories, and many other very brilliant and fragrant varieties.

BIENNIALS from seed generally bloom the second year, then die. Some varieties, if planted early, bloom the first year; therefore are treated as annuals.

PERENNIALS are those that endure our long winter with little or no protection and live and bloom several years in succession. A large majority of the perennials will bloom the first year if started early in the spring. Hollyhocks, columbine, larkspur, foxglove, poppies, etc., are in this class.
